

Things to Know, Before You Go & Curriculum Overview

APS High School to Theatrical Outfit

About the Show

The Hunchback of Notre Dame: By Victor Hugo (Disney version). Published in 1831, and set in Paris 1482, The Hunchback of Notre Dame offers us a glimpse into the era's social strife. The musical explores many injustices by addressing topics of fate, destiny, and revolution. The piece also exposes the severe distinctions between social classes and the judgment of the "other."

Day-of Contact Information:

Venue: Rialto Center of Performing Arts Center
84 Luckie Street
Atlanta, GA 30303

Contact Information:

Lee Foster
415-730-0489

The venue is located downtown on the corner of Luckie Street and Forsyth Street.

Special Instructions:

Bus Information

Buses should drop off students in front of the theatre and then immediately depart to make room for the next bus.

Chaperones

We encourage teachers and chaperones to spread out among the group and to separate potentially disruptive students in advance.

Visitation Norms

This is a stage performance. Upon entering the theater and during the show, please keep noise and distraction to a minimum.

- Please turn OFF all cell phones.
- For the safety of our performers there is NO FLASH PHOTOGRAPHY, videotaping or recording of any kind, including cell phones.
- There is no food or drink permitted in the Performing Arts Center Theater.
- Gentlemen please remove hats.
- Show respect for the performers by:
 - Refraining from talking and moving around during a performance.
 - Show your support and appreciation after the performance is finished with applause.

- Applauding when a scene ends is encouraged. Watch for cues such as dimming house or stage lights.

Enjoy the performance and thank you for being a respectful and supportive audience!

Georgia Performance Standards(GPS) – Curriculum Connection

- SSWH7