I AM BOTH

GREAT TURN OUT AT "I AM BOTH" OPENING

Thank you to everyone that came out to the opening reception of "I AM BOTH". The exhibition features work by Sonya Yong James and Trevor Reese. We had a great turnout and great conversation about the work. If you missed the reception, please stop by to see the show before it closes. The exhibition will be on view until March 9 and we will have the Artists Talk on Saturday March 2 at 2 PM. All gallery events are free to the public. Please join us!

Mark your calendars for upcoming class registrations! Spring registration opens February 4 and Summer Camp registration opens February 11. Summer Camp registration includes our Teen Workshops. These workshops offer a one week focus on one artistic medium. This year we are offering one week of painting, drawing and hand-building classes for teens ages 13-18. If you have a creative teen, our workshops offer the perfect opportunity for them to create art taught by some of Atlanta's best artists! Mark your calendars 'for' February 11!

We appreciate your continued support of the arts center. Please keep in mind not only do we offer classes, but we also sell art and items specifically made to the support of the center. For a unique gift item, visit the gift shop. View original art by some of Georgia's best visual artists by visiting the gallery.

We have something for everyone at the Chastain Arts Center. I hope to see you around the arts center soon.

Artfully yours,

Karen Lowe

ARTIST TALK | MARCH 2, 2019 | 2:00 PM

"I AM BOTH", is a two-person exhibition of new work by Sonya Yong James and Trevor Reese. The work explores the ideas and themes around duality, systems that bridge personal and public, and the meeting of past and present. Both artists' artwork is an accumulation of objects and materials that respond and contrast with each other in both form and content. The work is the result of a conversation between two people, the two artists, in two different geographies.
